Some Help With

AnyDesk 8.3.0 for iOS: New Features and Bug Fixes for Enhanced Remote Access

On October 7, 2026, AnyDesk launched the highly anticipated update 8.3.0 for iOS, introducing exciting new features along with a range of bug fixes aimed at enhancing user experience.

What's New:

- The update includes a new functionality to "follow the remote cursor" in the session settings. This feature significantly enhances user interaction by allowing for smoother tracking of the cursor during sessions, making navigation more intuitive and efficient.

Bug Fixes:

- A resolution was implemented for an issue related to clipboard permissions within sessions, ensuring seamless copying and pasting capabilities.
- Problems with session playback controls were addressed, allowing for better usability during interactive sessions.
- Fixes were made to correct a bug in the shared traces logging feature, ensuring accurate data recording for users.
- Various adjustments and enhancements were made to the user interface, further improving overall usability.

These updates are designed to optimize the interaction and functionality of AnyDesk on iOS devices, making remote access and collaboration smoother than ever.

 © 2026 www.somehelpwith.com