AnyDesk Update August 2026: Key Bug Fixes and UI Enhancements for Improved User Experience

On August 17, 2026, AnyDesk rolled out an update that brought a host of bug fixes and enhancements aimed at improving user experience. Here are some of the key issues that were addressed:

- Resolved crashes that occurred when using the command line with a password to connect to the backend.
- Fixed an issue that could lead to UI misconfigurations, ensuring a more stable and visually appealing interface.
- Corrected a bug in the “AnyDesk One Meeting” feature that prevented the host’s name from appearing in the meeting information sidebar.

In addition to these fixes, the update also included user interface improvements, making navigation even smoother, and optimized translations within the app, enhancing accessibility for a broader audience.
