FAQ

To ensure you acquire the license that best fits your technical and business requirements, we recommend purchasing through official channels with professional guidance. This helps you avoid configuration errors and ensures the best value for your organization.

1. Contact An Authorized Partner

We recommend purchasing your AnyDesk license through an authorized local partner. Partners provide local support, personalized quotes, and can assist you with the entire setup process.

2. Contact Our Sales Team

If you prefer to work with us directly, our expert team is ready to assist you. Visit our Official Contact Page to request a consultation or a custom quote.

FAQ

Why is professional assistance recommended?

Purchasing through a partner or our sales team ensures that you choose the right amount of concurrent connections, namespaces, and add-ons from the start, preventing administrative delays or the need for frequent license adjustments.
