Some Help With

How to Fix AnyDesk Warning Banner Issues: Troubleshooting Tips and Solutions

Recently, numerous users have reported encountering a warning banner that appears upon launching AnyDesk or connecting to their devices from mobile phones or tablets. This message indicates that AnyDesk has noticed an increase in app usage and can be quite bothersome, especially if it pops up frequently.

First and foremost, it's important to understand that the appearance of this banner does not necessarily mean that your PC has been incorrectly flagged. In many situations, this is merely a usage reminder and not necessarily indicative of an issue with your account. However, if you find this message appearing excessively (as in the case mentioned, it shows up every time you start AnyDesk or connect to a device), it might be a good idea to check some settings.

Here are several solutions you might consider:

1. Check Connection Settings: Ensure that AnyDesk has the necessary permissions to operate without restrictions on your device. Set full access and review any limitations that might be preventing smooth usage.
2. Update the Application: Keep AnyDesk updated to the latest version, as updates may include patches that reduce the frequency of these warnings.
3. Contact AnyDesk Support: If the problem persists, consider reaching out to AnyDesk's technical support team to investigate if there is a specific issue with your account or installation.

Additionally, it's advisable to check AnyDesk user forums where you can find similar cases and potential solutions that other users have already shared.

Remember that AnyDesk's usage policies may change, so stay informed and regularly check for updates through their official website or support section.

© 2026 www.somehelpwith.com