Some Help With

Optimize AnyDesk Connection Speed and Stability: Troubleshooting and Solutions

Title: Improve AnyDesk Speed and Connection Stability

Are you experiencing slow performance with AnyDesk, even with a LAN connection? It’s possible that AnyDesk is not recognizing a direct connection, resulting in sessions being established via the public AnyDesk network.

To ensure a direct connection, look for the  symbol in the toolbar. If it’s disabled, go to the “Settings” > “Connections” menu and enable “Direct Connections.”

If you’re still encountering issues, consider reinstalling AnyDesk to improve LAN session recognition and overall performance.